Presentation: Vilhjalmur Wiim will speak about Icelandic spring traditions and introduce the Icelandic animated short film, Kitchen by Measure from 2020. The story explores gender roles of the past and how they are surprisingly still relevant. The film is based on a short story by legendary Icelandic author Svava Jakobsdóttir.

Help us wish everyone a gleðilegt sumar (happy summer)! Past and present-day Icelanders celebrate the coming of spring in the month "Harpa" using the old Icelandic calendar. Sumardagurinn fyrsti (the first day of summer) brings various festivals, parades, events, and gatherings to celebrate the longer and warmer days ahead in Iceland.

All friends, family, and neighbours are welcome to help us welcome the warm weather and longer days in Icelandic style!
